BY E. A. KIMBALL,

"Freedom of Inquiry and the Power of the People."

WOODSTOCK, VERMONT, THURSDAY, DECEMBER 3, 1846.

$2,00 PER ANNUM.

Whole Number 342.

Volume 8 - Number 3.

BUSINESS CARDS. COLLAMER & BARRETT, Attorneys and Counsellors at Law Elm Street. 287 JAMES BARRETT ACOR COLLAMER.

REUBEN WASHBURN, ATTORNEY& COUNSELLOR AT LAW AND MASTER IN CHANCERY, Ludlow, Vt. 320

O. P. CHANDLER, Attorney and Counsulor at Law, Central Street, 257

EDWIN HUTCHINSON, ATTORNEY AND COUNSELLOR AT LAW,

SAMUEL II. PRICE. ATTOKREY ATLAW, OLICITOR AND MASTER IN CHANCERY STYDSOR, VT.

thorney.Counsellor and Solvitor in Chancery.
At annoy, vt.
Thermosthe Superior Courts in the countries of Cale in, Essey, Orleans and Washington.

SEWALL FULLAM, ATTORNEYATLAW, SENVALL FULLAM,

H. E. STOUGHTON. ATTORNEY ATLAW.

JAMES M. GILSON,
FTORNEY AND COUNSELLOR AT LAW AND SOACTIOR IN CHANCERY, Gigselle, Finding County, Fit.
7 All hashness entrusted to his care, promptly attend-

EDMUND WESTON. ATTORNEY AND COUNSELLOR AT LAW, West Randolph, Vt. 289-1y* CALVIN FRENCH, Attorney and Counselor at Law, PROCTORSVILLE, VT. WARREN C. FRENCH, ATTORNE VATLAW, SHARON, VT.

S. R. STREETER. Attorney and Counseler at Law.

BARNARD, VT. J. Q. HAWKINS, Attorney and Counsellor at Law.

PELCHVILLE, YT J. F. DEANE Attorney and Counsellor at Law. CAVENDISH, VT.

FREDERICK C. ROBBINS, Attorney and Counsellor at Law, LUDLOW, VT.

D. F. WEYMOUTH. TORNEY& COUNSELLOR AT LAW BETHEL, Vt.

HUNTON & JONES. P. HUNTON, 287 P. C. JONES. LANSON DYRE.

GETAVERNANDLIVERY STABLEREEPER CHERING BUSINESS, AND THE MANUFAC TURE OF BOOTS AND SHOES, OF EVERY VARIETY AND STYLE. East Rutland, Fr 301

J. T. BURNHAM, UNION HOTEL. SOUWICH, VT

WHITNEY'S HOTEL, of Elm and Central streets BY S. WHITNEY. J. H. SIMONDS.

WINDSOR HOUSE, WINDSOR, VT. SAMUEL FORD. CHESUIRE HOUSE.

KEENE. N. H. 277/ BRICK STAGE HOUSE, TH SIDE BLACK RIVER, JOHN R. SMITH

LUDLOW, VI. Z. F. HYDE, RICK STAGE HOUSE,

EW ENGLAND HOUSE,-BOSTON. location none better-being in the centra of the city and within two minutes walk of the POST OFFICE

POST OFFICE.

hants visiting laston may be assured of the best tion, and a strict resurd wiren to decadiness throughout the entire establishment.
PARAN STEVENS, PROPRIETOR. JOHN GASS,

MERICAN HOUSE, CONCORD, N. H. iages in realisers to conven visiters at this House to and from the depot. 318

O. A. BRYANT, n English, French, and American Dry Goons. W. L. Goods, and Groceries. Grockery Glass and Hard Ware. Elm Street

MELLISH & SLADE, ERSIN FLOUR, W. I. GOODS & GROCERIES ALSO CONSTANTLY ON HAND, S, CONFECTIONARY, SUMMER DRINKS AND TRAL STREET OF PORITE WHITNEY'S HOTEL.

JELLISH, Ggo. H. SLADE

HATCH, & CO ESIN FLOUR W.I. GOODS AND GROCERIES FECTIONARY, SUMMER DRINKS, AND SHMENTS, CONSTANTLY ON HAND. CENTRAL STREET.

RUSSELLA CLARK, CHMAKERS AND JEWELLERS, SHITE WHITSEY'S HOTEL, CENTRAL STREET,

R. H BAILEY, ares ot silver Sphons and Speciacles and Dealer in Lewelry, Carlery and Fancy Goods Wholesale and Retail. 287 osite Whitney's Hotel, Central Street.

HENRY HATCH, ne door south of Union Hall. Elm Street.

HULL B. WITT, SHIONABLE TAILOR,

CENTRAL STREET. 892 MICHAEL MYERS. ver J. Callamer's Office,

Elm street. E. W. SMITH, TAILOR OR BELOW THE BRUK STAGE HOUSE

D.M. DEWEY. of he improved Hobart Wooden Pumps, ave Pumps are warranted todraw a barrel innte with ease, up to a bundredicet. dors rom a listanceprompilyattendedto. nek Vi. 287

ALL & WYATT, BLACKSMITHS. of all kinds and Custom work of every description done to order. CENTRAL STREET.

GEORGE FISHER,

of , and dealer in cabinet furniture of every lescription.

Pleanant street, 287

ADIN H. HAMMOND. the Methodist and Episcopa Ch.

LIVERY STABLE Y ALBERT PACKER Court street. B. F. DICKINSON. WASHINGTON HALL, CHELSEA, V.,

Poetry.

For the dge. LETTERS FROM HOME Oh! they are come-these messeagers, From absent friends of mine-How eagerly I break the seal And gaze on each dear line.

And as I fondly read them o'er It almost seems I hear The well-remembered voices, now, Of those so hind and dear The messages of thoughtful love,

Which to my heart they breath, Are dearer than the fondest siniles That stranger lips e er wreath. They come from home and kindred. From those who love me best-And e en their tightest word is fraught With deepest interest.

Oh, as they speak of pleasant scenes, Of glad feours long since passed, Of pleasures which were all too bright And to a wiful to last, How swiftly over mound and plain Does "light-winged ' fancy roun Until she folds her pinions bright In that dear distant home.

And as she fondly lingers there. How swift "old memories" leap From out their shadowy resting place, Where they but seemed to sleep. First, "lovely as a poet's dream," Of heaven's own sinless cline, There comes a vision of life's morn, That brief and joyous time.

And merriest, midst the laughing group, That makes this vision fair Is she - that guileless hearted one -Mine only sister, there. But, as this vision vanishes, Another scene appears— A scene of grief and agony— Of bursting sighs and tears.

And she is there-that lovely one-But her sweet, gladsome voice Falls, now, no more upon the ear, To make the heart rejoice. That snowy dress—those young rose buds-Those leaves of sweet persune, Are not for ball or festival-Then ce decked her for the lamb.

I stood beside her as she drew Her last faint quivering breath, And, oh, 'twas grief unspeakable, To yield her unto death, And, yet, it came in gentleness, As sleep comes o'er a child, And left a sweet smile on her lip Like moonlight, soft and wild.

This little precious ring of gold She gave me in that hour, Is dearer than the gems that deck A monarch in his power. And when she placed it on my hand With fingers cold and weak, Her carnest eye revealed the lave Her tongue no more could speak,

And evermore that thrilling glance, That last-that fond forewell, In life's last struggle given me In memory shad dwell. And evermore name eye shall see A shade o'er brightest things-A shadow which that nomory o'er My gayest moments flings

Oh, once, that idol of my heart, When she was glad and gay, Sent dear, kind messages to me, When I was far away. But now, no word of love from her These precious letters bring-She slumbers in the silent grave

From whence no tidings spring, When we give up the cherished ones To their long dreamless rest,

And mass the bright forms from our path Who made existence blest, Then, with what fondness clings the heart, Though burdened with regret, To the remaining few, whom death

Has left to love us yet. Bethleham, Oct., 22, 1846.

The Fire=Side.

THE TWO CLERKS, THE ORPHAN'S GRATITUDE.

A tale of Honor and Crime.

BY AUGUSTINE J. H. DUGANNE.

CHAPTER XVI.

A weed,

Flung from the tock, on ocean's foam to sail Where'er the surge may sweep, the tempest breath prevail. Child Barold.

At eight o'clock, the next morning, the dull beems of a winter son shone on a little schooner, sailing with a spanking breeze from the harbor of Boston. On board scar over his left eye. He had been a never again visit North America. Will were two individuals previously favorably pirate with Lafitte. known to the reader; their names were Richard Martin, and our friend Stimson. At nine o'clock the affidavit of Frederick ve soil to-morar, and if-' Johnson to the robbery of Abbot & Co.,

was on file in the town court. Away went the little bark over the blue waters. Stimson unfolded carefully the plan of his contemplated villany. 'How much l'argent do you at present possess, with a winning smile. 'A couple of hundreds.'

'Which will give you a genteel fit-out in the piratical line." 'Piratical?'

'Ay, you did not think that motiny was our only object. No, my boy, a few years ernising in the Main will fill our pockets, and then we can hoist colors for one of the five hundred republics of South America, and with a commission, sail scot free .-Hey, my boy, what say you?"

'Why can we not hoist colors at first, and procure a commission, it'll be safer.' Don't you see? Well, they're all by the ears now, and it would puzzle a Philadelphia lawyer to tell which will beat .-So, we free boys of the ocean will prev on all, and declare for the one that fights longest-ho?

'A fine plan if we don't fail in the out-

'Fail, my boy! there's no such a word near the town Carabobe the army of the your fortune's made.'

own schemes, for he hated the min with tain-fastnesses. whom he had linked himself, and revenge Around a watchfire, at one of the out- tained a place near the person of Bollivar, watches or clocks, which are the growth,

New York burst upon them-New engaged in conversation. the turmoil of a great city's crewd-the had joined the army, and whose valor had tack. voice of a mighty traffic.

from her topmast?"

'that's the Halcion, our ship, my boy.'

broadside to, the vessel Stimson had point- go?' ed out. She was indeed a goodly craft. Her white taper masts contrasted strongly with the sable hue of her fairy spars .-Her long sharp build, and low draught, said the Irishman. 'Who leads?' marked her as 'Baltimore built,' and she swayed up and down at every heave of the waves, like a swan rocked to sleep by her own watery cradle. Every thing was and another officer advanced towards 'taught-drawn,' 'ship-shape.' She was a them. craft for a sailor to love.

hearts and firm nerves, d-u it, my liftmant?

friend, our fortune's in our own hands." they stopped, and Stimson, leading the ton, 'We are on the attack to-morrow.' Bowl' Inn. They traversed a long entry, answered the captain. And Mina left the them. and Stimson, after listening a moment at watchfire. a door, made known his presence by three | 'Captain,' said Henry, as he seated smart raps upon its pannel. It was open- himself, I have samething to request of od by a young man, clad in a short sea- you?" jacket, his linen entirely guiltless of the christian ordinance of baptism.

'Halcion,' said Stimson. they entered, he held the lamp to scruti- me gaging janutor,-'when did you spring?' Union.

overhaul the bread-locker.' 'Ay' ay! come along,' said the man, and the time we left him. ed round a table, discussing the merits of come the favorite with our general, and an a steaming bowl of punch that sent up its officer of his staff. fragrance to the olfactories of the visitors. almost stunned the ears of the sensitive plated; to join the Republicans, and strike

Dick-we're a jolly crew."

'Hurra for Dick Martin, he's the boy, Dick's joke, and his frank manner.

'Thank you, my hearties; here's halcion ronas.' days for all of us. The toast was dronk with vehement applause; scarcely one in Dick, ensconscing himself in a vacant ter? seat, was as deep in panch, pipes, and plotting as the oldest of them.

'When do we sail;' asked Stimson of tinant' an old tar, with a long pigtail, and a deep

'Vy, that sall be as so vind sail go,' answered the man; 'if it sall blow east, vy, 'D--n your ifs; when did the captain tell you to be on board.'

'Tomorar, sare, tomorar,' 'Be on hand, my hearties, then,' said Stimson, 'we sail' to-morrow, probably;

you will be in your stations. Tusker,' my young friend?' asked he of Dick, continued he, glancing at a large, heavybuilt man, who had been smoking a long Look here boys, listen.'

> evident that Stimson possessed as much over the eiderant clesk.

you, boys?" 'Ay, ay! hurra for Captain Spanker.'

'A new name,' thought Dick. 'Captain deed impregnable. Spanker,' shouted he, 'Captain Spanker forever?"

CHAPTER XVII.

When even the Spaniard's thirst of gold and war,

Forgets Pizarro to shout Bolivar .- By non It was in the early summer of 1821 and their horses, the two friends parted.

'And yours marred,' thought Dick- ment of the enemy from their entrench- his friend Mina, and his knowledge of the ware, jewelry, any patent medicine, or and then, he plotted in his thoughts his ments in the almost impregnable moun- language, for which he was also indebted any compound medicine, the composition posts, a party of Republican officers were as a lieutenant of the general's staff, mainly contributed to its success. gazed from the schooner's quarter deck - blackguards up there?' continued the 1- the fray. rishman, pointing with his sword, to the 'Suddy, my boys! strike for the honor agreeable to the directions of this act, The schooner sped along, and passed, far-off fires in the mountains, 'Mr Dic- uv the green Isle!'

> 'At day-break,' answered Don Diego, -'and you are on the vanguard.' Thank his excellency for that same,

'The General himself.' 'Before Paez comes up, Mr Diego?'

'Se, Senor O'Callagan,' said a voice,

'Ah, how are you, Major Mina? good 'Yes, that's our ship, and with brave luck to you; where's our young frind, the vadeing Spaniards. La Torre himself led book kept by him for that purpose, and ceeded up Peck Slip, and striking through 'I am here, my good O'Callagan,' giving tle.

'And you can do that, my darlint, asi-

'You have always, since I joined the nize their features, for the entry, entirely 'Niver mind that, me young soldier, tle-field. Foot to foot, breast to breast sign the license according to the form destitute of windows, rendered a lamp, als sure aren't you a Mirican of the ould states the opposing forces fought, and disputed above prescribed, and no license shall be though it was broad daylight without, in- of Washington? asked O'Callagan, using every inch of ground. At once a rush- valid unless the same shall be countera term by which the South American Re. a sween-and the General was seperated signed as herein directed. 'ila, captain, is it you?' cried the en- publicans designated the North American from his officers. A Spaniard's sword Sec. 5. Within ten days after each

'Five bells,' said Stimson, 'but who's But you have never heard why I left ashore; I'm half frozen, and hungry en- the States, and it is time you should, said ough to eat a horse. Heave away, and Fowler, and he proceeded to narrate to his Irish friend the story of his life, up to opening another door, he ushered them. It was through the influence of Capinto a room, where were four others seat- tain Mina,' continued he,'that I have be-

'When we arrived at Callao, the castles They all rose as Stimson entered, and were still in possession of the Spaniards, shaking his hand, poured out a confused and Captain Mina resolved then to put involley of oaths and welcomings, which to operation a plan he had long contem-Pil tell you all, my hearties, in a jiffey. one blow, at least, for the freedom of his country. But he generously gave me my but give way there, till I make you ac- choice to proceed with him to the camp, or quainted with a new comrade; here, my remain in a situation which he would proboys is Dick Martin-true blue-staunch cure me in one of the seaports. I had but to the backbone. What do you say- one desire-to win an honorable nameand I resolved to follow him. We ar-'Bear a hand with the grog. Jim,' cried rived at the camp; you were the first, my Dick, 'I always sail kest with a deep car- dear captain, to take by the hand the young volunteer-'

'Yes, and a locky take it was for me, cried the sailors, who were taken with maybe you forget the sabre-cut that you got instead of meself at the battle of Co-

'No matter for that, captain. But what I ask of you is this, as I may not survive the company understood what it meant, to morrow's action; will you hear the tionly the 'halcion' pleased them; and then dings of my fate to my friends-my sis-

'Och! don't be talking of dying; ye're worth twinty dead min, yet, me young lif-

'But I may fall, captain, and Mina may you promise me, captain?

'It's I that'll do whativer you ask,' said the captain. 'But don't spake of dying; tor if a dirty bullet should be after shaping its course for you, by St. Patrick! it must first make a hole in Dinnis O'Calla-

,Thanks! my kind friend,' said Fowler, as he drew his cloak around him, and remrned to the General's quarters.

The morning had not yet broken, when the army of Bolivar was in motion. Pagz mersehaum, in utter abstraction, 'Tusker was still in Varinas, and it was not proba- iers, we owe this day's victory. On the will go with us, in the cabin-passengers. - ble he would come up with the main ar- field of battle I make him major-general ed or gilded ware, jewelry, watches or my in season to join in the attack, with The jingle of the glasses ceased instant- his mountain llanerus. Nevertheless Genly, and there was a dead silence. It was eral Bolivar determined to attempt the passage of the heights, and Cedeno was control over the rest as he had attained despatched to reconneitre. General La Porre, the Spanish commander, had en-'We shall sail to-morrow; now, mark trenched himself strongly' among the alme, in eight-and-forty hours from the time most inaccessible cliffs, and defended in we pass the Narrows, with a stiff breeze, person the only pass through the mounthe Halcion must be ours. What say rains-a Thermopyle which a handful might have defended, and which the numbers of the Spaniards seemed to make in-

'We shall have hot work, captain,'said Fowler. 'Throth, I think it; you're in the van?

'With the staff.' 'Thin I'll be near ye. But, gallop!

York, with its thousand ships, and its "You are certain that Paez is in Var- glorious sight! those brave men, mounting port any such goods, wares and merchanthousand warehouses-its merchant-prin- mas?" asked a tall officer in the uniform the rocks with steady march, in the teeth dize from town to town, or who shall come ces, and its pauper-villains. New York of Bolivar's staff, of another, whose bluff, of the deadly and masked batteries. Rank from without this state, into any town was before them; the light skiffs, the swift careless air, plainly discovered him to be after rank was swept away by the fiery within the same, bringing any such goods, steamboats plying for pleasure or profit, one of the transatiantic adventurers who hail, and still the trumpet sounded the at- wares or merchandize, and shall in any

'See you that neat-built craft, that sits 'Ay, by me sowl,' answered he, with emerged from among the rocks. Like a wares and merchandize to sale by auction like a duck in the water, with the black rich Irish brogue; and with as fine a set torrent he bore down upon the assailants! or otherwise, at any public or private yards, and the long pennon streaming of barelegged Hancros, as ever throttled a Back-back they rolled! Only one firm house, store or other place, shall be deemwildball. Och! he's a broth of a boy, that phalanx withstood the rushing stream. It ed a pedler. Richard cast his eye in the direction same Paez. But when does the gineral was the Irish battalian, and the clear voice Sec. 2. Any person who shall be a indicated; 'that,' said Stimson, as the two intind to make a clane swape of the dirty of O'Callagan rose high above the din of pedler, without having in force a license doms!' cried a brave Englishman to his dred and fifty dollars, nor less than twencountrymen; 'back, and drive the Spanish five dollars. dogs to their kennels!'

tained the hottest of the assault.

es, the brave battalion kept back the ad- by the county clerk issuing the same in a on his men, but in vain. Far down the said clerk shall receive for so doing, to He is here, said Mina, and at the same mountain fled the scattered Republicans, his own use, the sum of fifty cents, to be Dick answered not. The schooner moment a young officer made his appear. In wild disorder. But still the brave for- paid by the person licensed; and said lisoon hauled up, and the two worthies took ance, beneath whose white plume, still eigners, behind a rampart of their dead cense shall be in the following form: their course for their quarters. They pro- shone the blew eyes of Henry Fowler .- comrades, maintained the unequal bat-

the city, directed their steps to the eastern his hand to the officer. 'And Major Mi- Bolivar, from a height, and surrounded side, then, as now, a sort of Aisatia for na,' said he, turning to one whom the rea- by his staff, surveyed the rout of his na- hereby granted to A. B. of the mass of rascals who infest the me- der will recognize as the captain whose tive troops. He saw the battalion of for- said county to be a pedier within this tropolis. At the corner of Fish street, life Henry had saved in the streets of Bos- eigners make its gallant stand, and his state, for one year from the date hereof, heart revived again. 'Forward, gentlemen, and he has paid therefor the sum of way, conducted Richard to the upper part 'Ah, tis well, amigo. We must pre- to the rescue!' shouted he, waving his dollars. of a house, whose time-worn sign-hoard, pare, buonos noches cavalero,' said he, sword, and plunging from the height .as it swung on its rusty crane, gave forth touching his cap to Captain O'Callagan. | Mina and Fowler dashed after the genethe intimation that this was the 'Pipe and 'Swate slave till the trumpit sounds,' ral. They gained the ravine, Cedeno met

'All is lost!'

the strangers archieve our freedom?" 'Come in,' said the man, and then, as army of Bolivar expressed an interest in followed by the animated troops. The so doing, the sum of fifty cents, to be paid > round him. treat from the rocks, had just reached the his annual report to the auditor in the > scene; 'Boliver is in danger.' 'Come on, thin,' was the response of O'Callagan, and together they plunged to September annually, the auditor of acthe rescue of the chief. A timely stroke counts shall ascertain the whole amount levelled a Spaniard who had aimed his received for pedlers licenses throughout knife at the back of Bolivar, and enabled the state for the year previous, under this the General to mount the horse of the act, and shall apportion the same among lientenant. Taking the fallen Mina in the different counties, according to their their arms the Republican officers now population at the previous census, and fought their retreat, while the enemy, ela. shall forward to the treasurer of each

> At once a trumpet was heard far up in county. the mountains. It was the signal-blast of Sec. 7. No license shall be granted Paez, who stopping not to join the army of Cedeno and Anhuategui, had dashed and before any county clerk shall issue a holdly on to dispossess the Spaniards of license, the applicant therefor shall prothe heights. Like a horricane he swept cure from the selectmen of the town at the head of his wild Hancros through the dangerous pass. The frowning batteries stopped not his course. On he dashed, and the terror-stricken foe fled far before him. It was the blast of victory that Bolivar heard in the mountains. The battle was gained, and La Torre completely routed, ere the Commander-inchief was aware that Paez had passed

A glorious scene, the plain of Tinaquil- iv. lo presented the morning after battle of Carabobo. The host of La Torre were scattered, and the banners of liberty waved from every height, that was crowned the day before by the batteries of the Royal-

'Senor Americano,' said the General; 'I owe my life to you, you are a captain; henceforth, be this your country, and Bolivar your friend forever!

'To the brave Paez, Republican soldof the army of liberty.

'To you, brave, undaunted foreigners, cantinued Bolivar, turning to O'Callagan, and the English and Irish troops, who were drawn up behind the staff, 'For you, let your brave band be forever called the ed in a license shall always determine the Battalion of Carabobo.'

A shout rose up, from the troops, and the voice of O'Callagan cried, 'long live to town, or from place to place in the show his license, when thereto required same town, either on foot or otherwise, by any one of the civil authority of any there's the trumpit,' and putting spurs to carrying to sell or exposing to sale any town in this state, he shall forfeit and pay goods, wares or merchandize which are to the treasurer of the state, the sum of There was in Bolivar's army a battalion the growth or manuficture of any foreign twenty dollars.

TO BE CONTUNED. LAWS OF VERMONT AN ACT relating to pedlers. It is hereby enacted, &c.

to the instructions of the major, had ob- of which is kept secret from the public, produce or manufacture of the United The attack commenced. Oh, it was a States; and any person who shall transtown to which he may transport or bring At once La Torre and his grenadiers the same, temporarily expose said goods, therefor, corresponding to his business, shall forfeit and pay to the Treasurer of Strike for the name of the three king- the state, a sum not exceeding one hun-

Sec. 3. Licenses to pedlers shall be 'Strike for the glory of the Stars and issued and signed by the county clerk of Stripes! shouted a Kentuckion, where a the county wherein the person licensed small band, from Yankee-land, from the shall reside, and be countersigned by the middle States, and from the West, sus- treasurer of such county; each license shall express the amount of duty paid As the rock withstands the lashing way, therefor, shall be numbered and recorded

STATE OF VERMONT.

County of Bo it known, that license is No.

A. D.

day of

Given under my hand this

C. D., county clerk. Registered, E. F., county Treasurer. Sec. 4. The county treasurer of the 'Back back, ye cowards' shouted Boli- county, when any license is granted, shall var, as he passed the flying throngs; 'shall register in a book kept for that purpose, the number of such license, the name and The scattered Republicans rallied at residence of the person to whom the same the trumpet-tones of their leader's voice. is granted, the date and sum paid there-Bolivar dashed forward, into the meler, for, and shall receive to his own use, for plain of Tinaquillo presented one vast bat- by the person licensed, and shall counter-waved over his head-a bullet struck the term of the county court, the clerk shall neck of his horse, and the brave steed stag. account for and pay over to the state treasgered beneath his master .- Mina sprung urer, the amount received by him for pedforward, and a sabre-cut brought him to ler licenses, not before accounted for; and the earth. The General's fate seemed shall embrace in his returns for the term. certain; a dozen bayonets were at his to the auditor of accounts, a statement of breast, the hail of musket-balls fell fast a- the monies received by him, with the certificate of the county treasurer, that the 'To the rescuel' shouted Henry Fowler same is correct; and the auditor of acto the Irish captain, who, forced to re- counts shall embrace such statement in treasury. ted with their success, pressed on with new county an order on the state treasurer, for the amount so found to be coming to each except to persons residing in this state; where he resides, and file with such clerk, a certificate, substantially as follows:

STATE OF VERMONT.

County of The undersigned selectmen of the town in said county, hereby certify that A. B. is now a resident of this town, and that he has resided in this state one year next preceding the date hereof, and is in good repute for morals and integri-

Given under our hands this A. D. C. D., E. E., G. H. Selectmen of the town of

Sec. 8. Every pedler shall pay for a license the following sums, to wit: if he travel on foot, fifteen dollars; if with a horse, or other beast bearing burthen, or if with a wagon, sleigh or other vehicle drawn by one beast or more, forty dollars; any patent medicine, or any compound medicine, the composition of which is kept secret from the public, one hundred dollars.

Sec. 9. The amount of duty expressmanner in which the goods may be conveyed from place to place; and if any pedler, licensed to travel on foot, shall convey his goods in any other manner, he shall incur the same forfeiture as if he had no license whatever.

Sec. 10. Any license, granted as aforesaid, shall be in force one year from the date thereof, and no longer. Sec. 1. Any person going from town Sec. 11. If any pedler shall refuse to in the almanac I go by; no, our way is South American republicans, under Boli- ocmposed entirely of English and Irish, in country, or any cotton, linen, woolen or Sec. 12. The penalties and forfeitures clear; only be firm, and don't stick, and yar, had encamped, awaiting the command which Captain O'Callagan held his com-silk goods, or goods composed in part of imposed by this act may be recovered by of their general to attempt the dislouge- mand. Fowler through the influence of either of said materials, plated or gilded indictment, or information of any mforms.